

"Global Scope of the Port of Seattle and the Diverse People Who Depend on It"

"Dr. Skip Rowland is a powerful voice that has resonated throughout this region for a long time. He challenges us to believe that our strength lies in diversity and collaboration."

Port CEO Tay Yoshitani

Dr. Skip Rowland

Wednesday, November 11, 2009
Sea-Tac Airport, International Conference Room
11:45 am - 1:00 pm

Bring your lunch, dessert will be served.

RSVP: Charlene Jones, jones.c@portseattle.org or (206) 787-3187

The Port of Seattle invites you to an engaging event featuring Dr. Leon "Skip" Rowland, Executive Director, Urban Enterprise Center of the Greater Seattle Chamber of Commerce.

Dr. Skip Rowland is internationally known as a dynamic and motivational speaker. He will share his views on the historical and regional significance of the Port, as well as discuss his vision on how we must work together to strengthen the Port and its strategic partnerships. Skip has daily contact with those diverse people whose interests, dreams and quality of life depend on the Port.

Skip is Executive Director of the Urban Enterprise Center of the Greater Seattle Chamber of Commerce. At the UEC, Skip designs "multicultural Marketing" strategies and "cross-cultural business" best practices for small and minority businesses. He holds a doctorate in Education, Masters of Science in Management and a Bachelor of Science of Social Science.

Skip has extensive experience in leadership development, business management, entrepreneurship and small business development. He has held executive positions in both the private and public sectors.

*All Port employees and general public are invited.
This is a not-to-be missed event!*