

3.01 INTERIOR SIGN TYPES

Classifications of signage consist of:

- A. Directional
- B. Identification
- C. Information
- D. Airport Regulatory
- E. Building and Fire-Code Related
- F. Traffic Regulatory
- G. Hazard Warnings and Markings
- H. Air Field

The success or failure of a sign program depends on how well the information is organized. The signage hierarchy represents the basis for the rational organization of information which is to be displayed on the signs. The basic hierarchy of Directional Identification, Information, and Regulatory signs must not be altered. Also the content of different sign types must never be intermixed (i.e., directional information should not appear on information signs).
