

Help a Student Explore a New Career

With Port of Seattle Summer Internships

The Port of Seattle's internship program provides job and skills training to high school and college students. But it's so much more than just a paycheck or a summer job — it's a chance for students to explore a new career they may not have considered, and meet people who can help develop their careers.

A Port of Seattle internship can help students build their careers in:

- Aviation
- Maritime
- Environmental Protection
- Public Administration
- Skilled Trades (like construction and mechanics jobs)

Students can apply in April for an internship that will help them gain new perspectives, learn job skills and develop connections. And spend July and August exploring their career options.

How to Apply:

1. Attend a job fair
2. Browse current openings
3. Submit a resume and cover letter

“The most important thing I learned was confidence. I was insecure about writing before, but working with the public affairs teams had me writing documents. I wanted to get better and have developed a passion for writing.”

—2016 Intern Bryanna Bui

“My internship was eye-opening. I learned a lot — new and different things — and became a better worker and a better student. I got involved with things I never thought I would involve myself with. Internships are about constant learning and growth and becoming a better person.”

—2016 Intern Rosa Johnson
