

Who helped shape your career?

Change a life by becoming a mentor

Maybe you had someone who helped you build a strong career. That can be life-changing. But not every student has that same opportunity and access.

The Port of Seattle has partnered with Educurious to build a network of Port-related industry mentors. You can open doors for the next generation by providing high school students with access to knowledge and resources.

MENTORS WILL:

- Answer students' questions about careers and subjects
- Engage with students virtually for 30 minutes a week in July and August over a technology platform
- Share your stories and experiences about your education, industry, career path, success, and challenges
- Help students sharpen their communication skills through informational and mock interviews
- Attend an in-person networking event to meet your mentoring peers

IT'S EASY TO BECOME A MENTOR

1. Complete an online application to capture your interests and expertise.
2. Participate in a 30-minute introductory phone call with Educurious.
3. Complete an onboarding webinar.
4. Pass a background check.

SIGN UP TODAY!

www.educurious-experts.chronus.com

Questions?

Rose Carlson
Educurious

- (206) 717-2295
- rcarlson@educurious.org