Learn about the Port's preliminary 2020 budget and capital investment plan

Community members are invited to learn about the Port's preliminary 2020 budget and capital investment plans at upcoming open houses. The plans outline the Port's blueprint to further invest in infrastructure, maximizing efficiency and service to benefit the economic and environmental vitality of our region.

Port staff will share information about investments at Seattle-Tacoma International Airport (SEA), in the maritime, and economic development divisions. Staff will also share how the Port's preliminary budget focuses on customer experience improvements, supports economic activity across our region, and supports healthy habitats and communities.

Port Commissioners will receive a briefing on the preliminary plan to fund the Maritime and Economic Development division five-year capital plan at their October 22 public meeting.

The open houses are from 5:30-7:30 p.m. October 22 in the Main Atrium at Pier 69 and 5:30-7:30 p.m. October 28 at the Airport Conference Center at SEA.

Healthy Habitats and Communities

Port looks to protect endangered orcas by reducing ship noise

The Port is among a group of agencies working together to explore ways to reduce underwater noise to support recovery of the endangered population of Southern Resident killer whales. Underwater noise can be harmful to Southern Resident orcas because it impedes their ability to use sonar to hunt prey and communicate.

The Port of Seattle, Port of Tacoma, Northwest Seaport Alliance, Washington State Ferries, NOAA, and the Puget Sound Partnership co-convened a workshop attended by state, federal, tribal, and Canadian government representatives, researchers, natural resource agencies, whale conservation groups and representatives of the maritime industry. The goal behind the workshop was to explore the possibility of establishing a program to reduce the exposure of our endangered orca to ship noise, such as ECHO, established by the Port of Vancouver, BC.

Port extends Tsubota site lease another year

The Port of Seattle Commission voted yesterday to renew the lease agreement with the City of Seattle for continued use of the Tsubota site for the temporary homeless encampment located there. The extension is for one year and will expire in November of 2020. The City of Seattle has leased the site since November of 2017.

Interbay Safe Harbor Village is managed by the Low Income Housing Institute in partnership with the residents of the village through a democratic self-governance structure. In addition, two case managers are on-site daily to support the residents in obtaining housing, employment, healthcare, education, and other services as they transition to permanent housing.

Celebrate fall with seasonal festivities and flavors at SEA

If the season's cooler weather and shorter days has you reaching for sweaters, thermostats, and pumpkin flavored everything, our airport dining and retail vendors have you covered. Beyond pumpkin sips and bites, SEA is celebrating the harvest season with passengers during three days of events. If you're traveling on October 30, 31, or November 1, join us for:

Fall Fun at SEA: Oct. 30 at 11 a.m.

We are hosting free mini-pumpkin painting for kids at the Children's Play Area. This is first come, first-served while supplies last. There will also be a photo booth to celebrate the harvest season where passengers can pose with pumpkins and fun props. Take the photo prints as souvenirs or have them emailed or texted to you.

Halloween at SEA: Oct. 31 at 11 a.m.

Airport staff in Halloween costumes will be candy trick-o-treating with passengers that are also dressed up for the occasion! Look for us in Central Terminal while supplies last.

Día de los Muertos at SEA: Nov. 1 at 11 a.m

Join Sea-Tac Airport to celebrate Día de los Muertos or "Day of the Dead," a Mexican holiday to honor and remember loved ones that have passed on. Festivities will include a commemorative altar to remember those gone, but not forgotten as well as food and music in the D Annex at SEA. This event is sponsored by Latinos Unidos, the Port's Latino employee resource group.

Maritime

Port and partners launch first Washington state maritime accelerator

The Port of Seattle has partnered with Washington Maritime Blue and WeWork Labs to launch Washington's first maritime accelerator to help maritime companies innovate and grow. The accelerator is currently accepting applications through November 18. The accelerator helps advance Port goals to establish Washington as a global leader in maritime innovation and increase the sustainability of maritime businesses in both Seattle and beyond.

Funded by the Port of Seattle and a grant from the Washington State Department of Commerce, the maritime accelerator will be housed and supported by WeWork Labs in Seattle. WeWork's global innovation platform for early-stage startups will run the accelerator through unique programming and events.

Policy and business leaders tour major airport projects

The Port recently partnered with Delta Air Lines and Alaska Airlines to give local legislators and business leaders a tour of SEA, including Delta's cargo facility and Sky Club lounge, the International Arrivals Facility construction site, and the North Satellite's newly expanded facility, including the flagship Alaska Airlines Lounge. The tour was part of the Association of Washington Business's (AWB) Manufacturing Week, a week-long celebration highlighting the importance of Washington's diverse manufacturing sector. It is meant to educate state leaders, future workforce members, and the general public about the variety of the manufacturing sector and what it needs to continue to provide great, hands-on jobs.

Port Commission Actions

The Port is committed to a future of expanded opportunity. Waterfront and airport investments commit to today's residents and the next generations that this Port will continue expanding economic opportunity, social inclusion, and environmental and community health.

October 22

The Port of Seattle Commission will consider a motion in support of Initiative 1000, which would allow public entities to take action to increase the number of minority, women-owned, and disadvantaged business enterprises that are awarded public contracts, and to oppose Initiative 976, which would impact transportation infrastructure funding.

The Commission will also hear briefings on accessibility improvements at Sea-Tac Airport, the 2020 Operating Division Preliminary Capital Improvement Budget, and the Tavy Levy and Draft Plan of Finance for 2020-2024.

Full agenda

October 8

The Port of Seattle Commission held a preliminary briefing on the 2020 Maritime and Economic Development budgets. Commissioners also authorized the renewal of the lease for the Tsubota homeless encampment site for one additional year and approved a $3.6 million increase in funding for the Interim Westside Fire Station.
